Version: v10.1 | 17 August 2026

Detailed role-play playbook

Preparation - 10 minutes

1. Read the scenario and your confidential role card.
2. Mark facts, assumptions, emotions, interests, and non-negotiable constraints.
3. Define the shared purpose and the communication outcome you want.
4. Choose the first phrase you will use and the evidence you will listen for.

Round 1 - baseline

1. State the business outcome and audience behaviours.
2. Create a message house with promise, proof, relevance, and action.
3. Select channels and cadence for launch, reinforcement, and listening.
4. Assign owner, approver, timing, feedback method, and escalation trigger.
5. Define reach, understanding, action, and trust measures.
6. Run a red-team review for contradictions, overload, and silence risks.

Observer coaching - 7 minutes

- Record exact language and observable behaviour, not personality judgements.
- Identify one strength, one meaning gap, and one alternative phrase.
- Check clarity, listening, tone, channel, ownership, and follow-up.

Round 2 - deliberate practice

1. Repeat the decision moment with the coached alternative.
2. Confirm shared meaning, action, owner, timing, and escalation.
3. End only when every role can state the same decision in their own words.

Debrief

1. What must remain consistent across audiences?
2. What should be tailored?
3. Where does two-way communication occur?
4. Which metric would trigger a plan correction?
