Activity 06 - Repair a Cross-Cultural Hybrid-Team Misunderstanding

Course: Mastering the Art of Communication to Enhance Team Collaboration and Customer Satisfaction

Course Code: TGS-2023037467

Alignment: K3, K5, A3

Version: v10.1 | 17 August 2026

Scenario

A Singapore-based product manager tells a regional colleague that a proposal is 'quite ambitious'. The colleague interprets this as approval and commits the date to a customer. Text messages become defensive, two team members stop contributing, and the weekly video meeting now avoids the issue.

Role cards

Role 1: Product manager

Represent this stakeholder's legitimate needs, constraints, risks, and preferred outcome. Do not disclose private role assumptions until the debrief.

Role 2: Regional account lead

Represent this stakeholder's legitimate needs, constraints, risks, and preferred outcome. Do not disclose private role assumptions until the debrief.

Role 3: Facilitator

Scenario questions

1. Which meaning was assumed rather than confirmed?
2. How can the facilitator stay curious without stereotyping?
3. What shared protocol prevents recurrence?
4. How will quieter team members be invited back into dialogue?
