Course: Mastering the Art of Communication to Enhance Team Collaboration and Customer Satisfaction Course Code: TGS-2023037467 Alignment: K1-K5, A1-A3 Version: v10.0 | 16 August 2026

Detailed role-play playbook

Preparation - 10 minutes

1. Read the scenario and your confidential role card.
2. Mark facts, assumptions, emotions, interests, and non-negotiable constraints.
3. Define the shared purpose and the communication outcome you want.
4. Choose the first phrase you will use and the evidence you will listen for.

Round 1 - baseline

1. Audit the pilot evidence and benchmark two suitable practices.
2. Interpret engagement, complaint, channel, and workforce data.
3. Prioritise gaps and define audience behaviours.
4. Build an integrated communications plan and message house.
5. Run a role play: accessibility-related customer escalation and internal handoff.
6. Coach one role using SBI/GROW, then present the final recommendation.

Observer coaching - 7 minutes

- Record exact language and observable behaviour, not personality judgements.
- Identify one strength, one meaning gap, and one alternative phrase.
- Check clarity, listening, tone, channel, ownership, and follow-up.

Round 2 - deliberate practice

1. Repeat the decision moment with the coached alternative.
2. Confirm shared meaning, action, owner, timing, and escalation.
3. End only when every role can state the same decision in their own words.

Debrief

1. Which evidence matters most and why?
2. What must change in people, process, channel, and governance?
3. How does the plan protect collaboration and customer satisfaction together?
4. What early warning metric would trigger intervention?
